

Remedy (Parody of 'Remedy' by Jason Mraz)

I saw the funeral from the freeway

Flag-waving necromancy it was well under way

Your son was born on the fourth of July

But you raised him for the devil didn't think he would die

You lied and taught him God loves everyone

His moral compass broke and now you're burying your son

So this song is not for him (it's for you)

Cause you're drunk on the poison but we've got the remedy

The remedy is your obedience

It's time for you to get your mourn on

It ain't a comedy, your God is serious

It's your responsibility to obey His word

I say the tragedy is how you're gonna spend

Eternity gnawing your tongue for pain

And you'll be cursing all of your friends

Cause they all applauded your sin to the end

I – I'm gonna obey my God today – yaya hey

I – I'm gonna tell you you must obey - yaay hey

I heard two fags talking on the radio

It was Anderson Cooper and Rachel Maddow

Uncovering the ways to plan the next fag attack

They were counting down the ways to stab their brother in the be right back after this

The unmistakable hiss, Satan calling God a liar, wallowing in the mire, trying to sanitize, sodomize

You're drunk on the poison but we've got the remedy

The remedy is your obedience

It's time for you to get your mourn on

It aint a comedy, your God is serious

It's your responsibility to obey His word

I say the tragedy is how you're gonna spend

Eternity gnawing your tongue for pain

And you'll be cursing all of your friends

Cause they all applauded your sin to the end

I – I'm gonna obey my God today – yaay hey

I – I'm gonna tell you you must obey - yaay hey

The remedy is your obedience

It's time for you to get your mourn on

It aint a comedy, your God is serious

It's your responsibility to obey His word

I say the tragedy is how you're gonna spend

Eternity gnawing your tongue for pain

And you'll be cursing all of your friends

Cause they all applauded your sin to the end

I – I'm gonna obey my God today – yaay hey

I – I'm gonna tell you you must obey - yaay hey

I – I'm gonna warn of God's wrath today

I – I'm gonna tell you God will repay – yaay hey
