

ENTER IN THE CHAMBER (Parody of “Enter In” by Narrow Way)

In a world of raging rebels
All the nations soon will fall
All the prayers of saints will be answered When the bowls of plagues will overwhelm
When the kingdom of the Beast is dark—
And all men wail

Come my people, enter thou beloved into chambers
And shut the doors about thee; hide thyself a little while For behold the Lord cometh, from his place beside the White Throne
With his sword dipped in their fatness,
while the angels are rejoicing
And the earth no longer covering her slain
He will have your chamber waiting Enter in

When thousands are falling around us
And the bodies piling up
When the winepress God is treading
When the fierceness of his glorious wrath Without mercy—for there was no mercy in this land

And shut the doors about thee; hide
thyself a little while
For behold the Lord cometh, from his
place beside the White Throne
With his sword dipped in their fatness,
while the angels are rejoicing
And the earth no longer covering her slain
He will have your chamber waiting
Enter in Enter in Enter in

Isaiah 26:

20 ¶ Come, my people, enter thou into thy chambers, and shut thy doors about thee: hide thyself as it were for a little moment, until the indignation be overpast.

21 For, behold, the LORD cometh out of his place to punish the inhabitants of the earth for their iniquity: the earth also shall disclose her blood, and shall no more cover her slain.
