

He Will Quickly Come

(Parody of "Don't Know Why" by Norah Jones)

We can't wait 'til we see the Son
We know that He will quickly come
We'll leave this world, we count it dung
We know that He will quickly come
We know that He will quickly come

Then will break th' Eternal Day
He'll take His saints & fly away
Removing sorrow, stopping lies
Wiping teardrops from our eyes

The bride is dressed in white
The Righteousness of Christ
Forever

Out across the glassy sea
We will live eternally
He'll exchange our bag of bones
We'll bow down at His Great
Throne

The bride is dressed in white
The Righteousness of Christ
Forever

'Til that time, this race we run
We know that He will quickly come
This vanity is almost done
We know that He will quickly come
He said that He will quickly come
Even so, Dear LORD, quickly come
