

This Lust (Parody of 'This Love' by Maroon 5)

You were so blind you did not recognize
The fire burning in God's eyes,
Concupiscence that ruled your mind.
You've treasured wrath against the day of wrath,
Walked upon a crooked path,
Deceitful, wicked heart. Oh!

Chorus:

This lust has taken control of you,
We said, "Obey! God has become your foe,
With His adumbrations in front of you.
And He'll say 'Goodbye,
You workers of iniquity, go.'"

Your labor cannot fill your appetite,
Filthy children of the night,
Your eyes are never satisfied.
Loving your reprobate and carnal mind,
Pretending that God is blind,
Your kings and nobles we will bind. But uh, oh!

Chorus

God has destroyed your things,
Gave all your riches wings,
For saying all your filth's alright
(Not alright, not alright)
He's only just begun,
You've had your good things, son,
He will spew you from the land,
Restitution of all things is at hand.

Chorus
