

That's the Night That the Lights Go Out in America (Parody of
"The Night The Lights Went Out In Georgia" sung by Vicki Lawrence and Reba McEntire)

Blessings poured out like rain drops Made the tyrannies of England stop From the pulpits roared the truth of God's Word
Helped America subdue its foes Abundant mercies overflowed Preachers talked about hell, and the people all heard Parents with truth—taught the children right
Took the nation to untold height Then you decided the glory of God you would take Brought God's wrath down on your head Rejected the words His prophets said Hated the truth – a mock of God's word you make

[Chorus]

That's the night that the lights go out in America That's the night that God destroys this land
You don't trust your soul to no lying whore false prophet Oh the raping priests have got bloodstains on their hands

It first broke down in the pulpit and pew
The preachers forsook the truth they knew
All the people forgot the blessings God sent
The men began to betray their wives

Idols and groves became a way of life
It was only a matter of time and the fabric was rent
You had a chance to repent and mourn
But you waxed worse – in your seats of scorn
Now you're bound—raping marines run the show
This once great nation has fallen in shame
The parents, preachers and teachers to blame Soon this land will begin to quiver and shake

Satan's boyz are always making their rounds
For your great sin - fags gained ground Big bottomed whore grabbed the reigns, and cried, "Sin-let's do it!"

The Judge is coming to put you on trial His righteous judgments make His people smile
The supper day's coming – the fowls of the air will get to it

Chorus

You hate your brother more each day
Words of hope you won't say Gripped in sin—and love it more than your life
Preached this word in every town Truth has fallen - can't be found You see God don't miss – when He gets you in His sight

Chorus
